OLD PERRY CEMETARY

Old Perry Cemetary, picturesque and quiet, was hardly a well-kept resting place. Tall grass, weeds, rocky cairns, and underbrush covered many of the graves. Some of the markers had fallen; others, chipped and broken, still stood as memorials to another generation. Over seventy unmarked graves were found. Temporary tin-markers had shed their paper inserts or become long faded under the heat of a Texas sun.

This was the story on August 4, 1961, when the compilers of this record visited Old Perry Cemetary. It was not, however, the complete story. Some individual graves and family lots were well-cultivated and planted with bulbs, tubulars and flowering shrubs; other sodded lots were well-trimmed and neat. A lady from nearby Moody, Texas, told of efforts to provide perpetual care for this old cemetary. Interest in the formation of a cemetary association waned, as few relatives could be located. Another resident of Moody commented on the unmarked graves. It was difficult, he said, to open new graves in Old Perry Cemetary without disturbing the remains of those already buried there.

Old Perry Cemetary, located about 2 miles northeast of the present-day Moody, had its first burial in about 1854, when the townsite of Old Perry, then located just south of the cemetary, was a young and bustling settlement. According to Mr. Frank E. Simmons, an octogenarian from Oglesby, Texas, and an author of published articles on Old Perry and Moody, the first burial in the cemetary was that of a young, lady school teacher, who, at the close of her short school year, died of pneumonia. Her grave, as Mr. Simmons remembered it, was marked by a rock cairn to protect it from being dug into by wolves and other preying animals. This burial was near 1854, and other burials followed before 1860.

The birthdate of Rev. Silas Mitt, born May 28, 1790, was the oldest record found in this cemetary. Rev. Mitt, a Baptist minister, came to McLennan County, Texas, in 1870, from Morgan County, Alabama. His wife, Susana Randolph, and other members of his family were also buried in Old Perry Cemetary. Rev. Mitt and his wife were the great, great grandparents of Raymond H. Bostick, one of the compilers of this record.

The oldest death recorded in this cemetary was that of Isaac McClain, who died August 20, 1861. Isaac McClain and his sons and daughters came from Perry, Illinois, in the fall of 1853, and a settlement developed where they stopped in Texas. The settlement was named Perry after the place they had left in Illinois.

There is another accepted version of the naming of this settlement. The Perry Mills, which surround this location, were named for Judge Albert Perry, of Falls County. Some believe that this village was also named in Judge Perry's honor.

One source gave the population of Perry in 1854 as one hundred and seventy-five. In the fall of 1855, the First Baptist Church was built on a small mound just south of the cemetary. Later, a New Perry was established a few miles from the original Perry townsite. When the town moved, the Baptist Church remained near the Perry cemetary. Thus the original Perry became known as Old Perry, and the cemetary became known as Old Perry Cemetary.

The Baptist church stood on the south of Old Perry cemetery for about twenty-eight years. The [illegible] railroad came through [illegible] in 1881. The railroad missed the town of Old Perry about [illegible] miles. In 1882, the [illegible] deeded to the Trustees of the Baptist Church lots 1, 2, and 3, in Block 25 at Perry for the consideration of one dollar. The Old Perry [illegible] Church completed the new church building in the fall of 1883. [illegible] name of the church was changed from Perry to Moody in July, 1903.

OLD PERRY CEMETARY RECORDS

Compiled by Mr. & Mrs. Raymond Harrison Bostick

Mrs. Bostick compiled her records from the markers in the Southeast portion of Old Perry Cemetary. She began with graves of the Witt Family, located inside a fenced enclosure which is almost in the center of the cemetary.
